$15.7 MILLION

Enter this duplex condo through the gallery on the 70th floor, and you'll know you've arrived (yes, literally as well as figuratively). Occupying the Time Warner Center's south tower, this 3,491-square-foot three-bedroom, 5½-bathroom home features a "loft-like" living room with floor-to-ceiling windows that offer "expansive" views of Central Park and beyond. The formal dining room has an en-suite bath, so it can also serve as a guest bedroom (formally or informally). The kitchen is outfitted with a double refrigerator, a wine fridge, Carrera marble counters and backsplash and a washer/dryer. The upstairs bedrooms are reachable by a "beautiful" wood stairwell, or you can travel between the floors in your private elevator. Agent: Denise
